DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 19,20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Boyce 6,082,157 in view of Bentley 4,951,577 and Cleveland 4,531,635. Boyce teaches a portable safe 11 having a base 12, sidewalls 13 and a lid 15 with no openings in the lid top and an anchor 28 attached to the base to be inserted into soil. Boyce fails to teach the use of threads to attach the top lid and further fails to teach a simulated sprinkler appearance for the safe. Bentley teaches a similar cylindrical portable safe comprising a lid 23 attachable to the safe 10 by threads 25. Cleveland teaches a simulated appearance for a portable safe providing the appearance of an outdoor object (in this case a rock). It is well known in the lock art to provide simulated appearances for portable safes. Accordingly, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the lid attachment means of Boyce by providing well know conventional threads as taught by Bentley and further to modify the appearance of the Boyce safe to resemble an outdoor object such as a sprinkler in view of the general teaching of simulated outdoor objects taught by Cleveland

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 19,20 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

In response to applicant's amendments, the newly cited patents to Boyce and Bentley are now applied against the claims to clearly teach a cylindrical safe having an anchor extending from the base to be inserted into soil and a threaded lid. Official Notice is taken that simulated safes are well known in the lock art for disguising portable safes to look like normal household or outdoor objects, such as the rock of Cleveland or the previously cited beehive of Jones. Accordingly, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide the safe of Boyce with a simulated outdoor object appearance, such as a sprinkler, as discussed above. Therefore, claims 19 and 20 stand rejected.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
